CHICAGO

Will Be Scene of Great Events During the Coming Week.

Catholic Center of Middle West Will Entertain Delegates to the Congress.

City of Catholic Churches and of Educational Institutions Is Host.

SIGHTS THAT ARE WORTH SEEING

The Catholic Missionary Congress will open its deliberations in Chicago tomorrow, and while the functions of the opening day will be of a religious nature strictly, the actual work will be done during the three succeeding days. It is fitting that the Congress should be held in the colossal city of the Middle West, because Chicago is really the Catholic center of the United States. There are larger Catholic dioceses in the East perhaps, but Chicago is the center from which the great mission spirit must emanate. Louisville will be represented in the Missionary Congress by the Rev. Fathers O. P. Ackerman, Thomas W. White and Charles P. Raffo, and John J. Caffrey will represent the laity. John F. Coleman, a life member of the Church Extension Society, and one of Chicago's leading business men and Knights of Columbus, was in Louisville last week and gave an interesting account of the preparations that Chicago Catholics are making for the entertainment of the delegates. Chicago is not only large and influential from a Catholic standpoint in itself, but just as in a commercial way it dominates the entire North-west and is representative of its people and its soil, so also is Chicago the keystone of the Catholic arch throughout the Mississippi Valley and the entire West and Northwest. The delegates to the Missionary Congress will find in Chicago a city of 175 Catholic churches, 125 parochial schools and several hundred Catholic institutions at which there is an attendance of 200,000 Catholics, approximately 150,000. Besides there are hundreds of other Catholic institutions, charitable and educational, any one of which would amply repay the inconvenience of a visit.

It might be remarked that these magnificent buildings reared up in the name of Christ and all imbued with and dominated by the Catholic spirit—churches, schools, colleges, academies, hospitals and asylums—might in themselves in a most typical way inspire the missionary zeal, and if the delegates to the Congress split nothing else during their visit, except the fervent spirit which is continually fructified from vigilance and charity, such would, in itself, well repay their trouble.

One of the most beautiful of the institutions in the city is the Academy of the Sacred Heart, under charge of the Sisters of Mercy. This building is perhaps in its equipment the most superior of any in this country and is easily within reach of the center of the city. The Servite Fathers have in charge the Visitation, of the Sorrows, on the West Side, which with the institutions attached form a small town in themselves, and from an architectural standpoint there is much to be found. St. Paul's church, now in charge of the Sisters of the Sacred Heart, and St. Martin's church, one of the diocesan churches of Chicago, are both superior examples of workmanship and style. The Lazarist Fathers have at St. Vincent College and the De Paul University, and here may be seen an auditorium which is considered by some of the best critics to be perhaps the nearest building of its kind in America. The house of the Good Shepherd, lately completed in part and a part still under erection, is well worthy of a visit. The convent of the Visitation, of Evanston, as well as the Academy of the Sacred Heart, at Lake Forest, the latter in charge of the Ladies of the Sacred Heart, are both superior in their equipment, and it is doubtful if there is anything, either in Europe or America, better. Another academy which has a most ideal location and in many ways has a particularly peculiar attractiveness is the Nazareth Academy at La Grange, under charge of the Sisters of St. Joseph. Those institutions mentioned are but a few of the many and typical in a general way of what is to be seen.

The Catholic parochial school system in Chicago has no superior in the world. It has 100,000 scholars and in contests with public school children the Catholic boys and girls always take the front rank. The opening ceremony of the congress, from a strictly ecclesiastical standpoint, will be at the Holy Name Cathedral. This edifice is imposing and typical, and has an ideal location.

Luncheon will be tendered by the Archbishop of Chicago to the visiting prelates, dignitaries and clergy, and will be in the school hall attached to the Cathedral, and in the vicinity of the Cathedral rectory and chancery office, which in itself is a very neat and appropriate building for the purpose, and also the Cathedral College. Within a short distance is the residence of the Archbishop, occupying a position at the entrance to Lincoln Park, at the junction of the Lake Shore drive with the Lincoln Park boulevard. The surroundings, generally speaking, are very beautiful. The banquet to be given in the afternoon will be at the Auditorium Hotel proper. This building, specially erected by subscription on the part of some of the prominent citizens of Chicago, combines a hotel, banquet room, reception parlors and auditorium, as well as an observatory, where the United States Signal Service is located, and all very unique and imposing. The reception to be tendered on the part of the Catholic ladies of Chicago to the visitors to the congress will be held in the hall room and reception parlors of the Congress Hotel Annex, a building which, for its purpose, in its equipment, advantages and service is perhaps unequalled.

Where the congress proper will be held—the Armory of the First Regiment of the Illinois National Guard—the accommodations, in every respect, could not possibly be more suitable. There is not only a large auditorium, within which can be seated between five and six thousand people, but there is a gallery running all around the building on each of the six stories, from any part of which a complete view can be had of the assemblage in the auditorium proper and the acoustic properties are considered to be particularly good. Besides the auditorium, where the congress proper will be held, there is placed at the disposal of the Congress sixteen smaller halls, each one abutting the larger hall, and in either of which there can be comfortably accommodated from one hundred to two hundred persons.

The First Regiment has been particularly generous in its offer of accommodations and care, and the delegates and visitors during their entire time of attendance will have at their disposal all possible advantages, as well as telegraph and telephone service within the building.

NICE TRIBUTE

Paid Two Societies of Our Faith By Cardinal Gibbons.

His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons has honored the Kentucky Irish American with a commendation regarding the Catholic University at Washington, D. C., and announces that the date set for the annual collection for that institution of learning is the first Sunday in Advent, November 29. The collection will be taken up in all the dioceses of the United States, unless some Bishop find it inconvenient at that time. In such cases the Bishops will select the nearest date thereafter for the collection as suits their convenience. In his letter Cardinal Gibbons said that the last annual collection amounted to $26,905, and declared it a splendid evidence of the warm interest taken in higher Catholic education. After meeting all its obligations the university has been able to add to its investment fund $98,132.35 during the past year. His Eminence adds:

"While this financial condition is very encouraging, we must all admit that the university will not be on a proper financial footing until its endowment of $2,000,000 is completed. With the present investment amounting to $633,334.08, and with other values that in a short time will surely come into our possession, I think I may safely say that about one-half of the endowment is already secured. It is the pride of my heart to see every day the growing prosperity of our dear institution of learning and it would be the crowning joy of my life to see its endowment completed before I close my eyes upon it."

Two noble organizations within the Church have inaugurated a movement toward this end, and I can not tell you with what affectionate solicitude I follow their generous endeavors. I refer, as you know, to the generous efforts of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and of the Knights of Columbus, and I am sure the good work will draw down a blessing upon them.

"In the same confident spirit I also appeal to my venerable brethren of the hierarchy, quite sure that their aid will not be wanting and that their zeal for this great work, so dear to the heart of our beloved Pontiff, is not less than my own."

INTEREST GROWS

As Date Approaches For Opening of St. Patrick's Bazaar.

Interest in the bazaar for the benefit of St. Patrick's church is increasing as the date for its opening approaches. The bazaar will be formally opened on the afternoon of Wednesday, November 25, and will continue each afternoon and night for three days. Supper will be served every evening of the three days for fifteen cents, while the tickets are placed on sale at ten cents each. The bazaar will be open to children on the afternoon of each of the three days.

Among the prizes that have been contributed are two separate fifty-bushel loads of coal, a handsome rocker, silk umbrella, pair of Sacred Heart pictures, fancy rug, Morris chair, heating stove, gold chain, rosary and $5 in gold. All who attend are assured a warm welcome and a pleasant time. The bazaar will be held in the school hall, on Thirteenth street, near Market.

ESTIMABLE LADY DEAD.

Mrs. Johanna Monkle, one of the best known ladies in the West End, died at the home of her son-in-law, Vincent B. Smith, 2635 Bank street, last Saturday morning. The deceased was seventy-three years old and had spent her entire life in works of charity. Her death is mourned by all who knew her. That she was held in high esteem was shown by the large number of friends who called at the house and by the attendance at the funeral, which took place from St. Patrick's church Monday morning.

TRIDUUM

Of Thanksgiving in Celebration of Ursulines' Golden Jubilee.

Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey and Other Clergy Will Assist at Exercises.

Order of Teaching Nuns Has Done Great Work in Past.

SPREAD OVER WIDE TERRITORY

The good Ursuline nuns will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their order in the United States with a solemn triduum of thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings bestowed on their community during the last half century. Because Louisville was the first location of the Ursuline Sisters in the United States, it was thought eminently fitting to hold the golden jubilee services in this city. The days set for the services are Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, November 24, 25 and 26. The programme of the triduum has been arranged as follows:

Tuesday morning, 10 o'clock, solemn mass of thanksgiving, coram episcopo, in the chapel of the Immaculate Conception Academy, 804 East Chestnut street; celebrant of the mass, the Very Rev. Father James P. Cronin, V. G.; deacon, Rev. Father Andrew Thome; subdeacon, Rev. Father George Weiss; master of ceremonies, Rev. Father George W. Schubmann, D. D.; deacon of honor, Rev. Father Henry Westermann and Very Rev. Peter Englert, O. F. M. After the mass the Right Rev. Bishop William George McCloskey will deliver an address, and a sermon in German will be preached by the Rev. Father Leo Greulich, O. C. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock the pupils of the Immaculate Conception and Sacred Heart Academies will present the drama, "St. Angela," which will depict scenes in the life of the foundress of the Ursuline order. The dramatization of the story is by a member of the faculty of Sacred Heart Academy, and will be accompanied as many visitors as possible the drama will be performed in St. Martin's school hall, Shelby and Gray streets, but children will not be allowed in the hall.

Wednesday, November 25, will be "Children's day," and the services will be held in St. Martin's church, because the Ursuline chapel will not accommodate the 1,100 children that will assemble. Each of the eighteen local parochial schools taught by the Ursuline Sisters will be represented, and fifty girls in white, and fifty little boys in blue, will march in procession carrying banners of St. Angela and Ursula. As they group about the statues of the patron saints the hymn, "St. Angela," words and music by a member of the community, will be sung by the entire 1,100 children. Solemn high mass will be sung by the Rev. Father Louis C. Oble, with Rev. Father Jerome Preissler, O. C. M., as deacon; Rev. Jacob Assent, subdeacon; Rev. Peter Berresheim, master of ceremonies. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Father John J. Fitzgerald, pastor of St. Leo's church, Highland Park.

On Thursday, November 26, the Rev. Father B. H. Westermann will celebrate the solemn mass of requiem in the Ursuline chapel, Shelby and Chestnut streets, for the repose of the souls of deceased members of the Ursuline community. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Father J. B. Pfeiffer, of St. Helen's church.

The Ursuline Sisters came to Louisville in November, 1858 at the instance of the late illustrious Marlin John Spalding, at that time Bishop of Louisville, and later Archbishop of Baltimore. They were the first members of the band came from the Ursuline convent in Strasburg, Bavaria, and taught the pupils of St. Martin's parochial school. Some years later more nuns arrived from Germany, and the present academy at Shelby and Chestnut streets was founded. Since then the community has increased until it numbers hundreds of nuns scattered through many States, but the parent house is at Shelby and Chestnut streets, this city.

The special mission of the Ursuline order, founded by St. Angela Merici, is the instruction of youth. The order was founded at Brescia, Italy, in 1535 A. D., and is consequently verging on its fourth century of usefulness. According to the promise given by God to its holy foundress, it will last until the end of the world. The Ursulines of Kentucky, as all Ursulines, are potent factors in true education. They have grown in number and influence and today thousands bless their labors of fifty years.

Besides the eighteen parochial schools taught by these Sisters in Louisville, they teach parochial schools in Owensboro, Hardinsburg, Evansville, Madison and in Maryland. Moreover they have flourishing academies like those of the Immaculate Conception and Sacred Heart in Louisville in other places, notably Mount St. Joseph's in Daviess county, Kentucky, and Sts. Peter and Paul in Maryland. Each of these institutions has its broad and comprehensive curriculum handled by a competent faculty. Besides the usual studies of an academic course the Ursulines give special attention to the languages, and the arts of music and painting are brought to great perfection. No doubt every parish in Louisville will be represented at the celebration on one or more days during the triduum of thanksgiving.

JUBILEE YEAR

Of Pope Pius X. Is Rapidly Drawing to an Illustrious Close.

Has Spent Half a Century as Priest of the Catholic Church.

CARDINALS CALLED THIS WEEK TO CONGRATULATE HIS HOLINESS.

DEMOCRATIC IN HIS CHARACTER

The fiftieth anniversary of the ordination of His Holiness Pope Pius X. is rapidly approaching, and during the year now drawing to a close hardly a month has passed that has been without pilgrimages from one or more countries of the Christian world. Last Monday the Pope received the members of the Sacred College, who congratulated him on the fiftieth anniversary of his entering the priesthood. The Cardinals were headed by Cardinal Serafini, president of the Sacred College, and Cardinal Vannutelli on account of the illness of Cardinal Gregorio. Dean of the college, The Princes of the church presented the Holy Father with $4,000 in gold pieces, and Cardinal Vannutelli expressed the greeting of all the members of the college on the occasion. In reply Pope Pius thanked the Cardinals for their good wishes and showed them a large gold medal coined for the jubilee of the foundation of the South American College in Rome, which coincides with his own jubilee. The cable announced that Pope Pius will formally celebrate his golden sacerdotal jubilee on Monday, November 16, when he will celebrate mass in St. Peter's Basilica in the presence of many thousands of persons, including special delegations from all the countries of the world. The jubilee relations with the Vatican and scores of bishops from all parts of the world. As a matter of fact the Pope was ordained to the priesthood on December 18, 1858.

Joseph Sarto, now Pius X., was born at Rovee, in the diocese of Treviso, June 2, 1858, and was only twenty-three years old when ordained. On November 10, 1884, he was consecrated Bishop of Mantua; created and proclaimed Cardinal and Patriarch of Venice on June 15, 1893. He was elected Pope on August 4, 1903, and crowned five days later. As Pope he also bears the titles of Bishop of Rome and Vicar of Jesus Christ, Successor of St. Peter, Prince of the Apostles, Supreme Pontiff of the Universal Church, Patriarch of the West, Primate of Italy, Archbishop and Metropolitan of the Roman Province, Sovereign of the Temporal Dominions of the Holy Roman Church.

The chief characteristics of His Holiness during a long and useful life have been simplicity, modesty and charity. In his young days he often went without food in order to give to others. He is the first Pope of peasant parentage in a century and a half. There is also no trace of nepotism in the character of Pius X., not one of his relations are holding places in the gift of the Pope, although he has thousands to give away. His brother is a letter carrier. One of his sisters is married to an innkeeper; two others are the wives of shopkeepers, and three single sisters rent modest quarters near the Vatican.

As one American writer puts it Pope Pius comes from the people, as did Abraham Lincoln. He has the same simplicity, the same democracy and in a degree the same love of humor that distinguished Lincoln. Mr. Thaddeus, the Irish painter, was making a portrait of the Pope soon after his coronation. He said: "Holy Father, your eyes are not Italian eyes at all. They are just the same eyes we have in Ireland." "Well," said the Pope, "I am glad you like them. And they make us brothers, don't they?"

From the days when he was a humble parish priest until the present Joseph Sarto has had an unbounded popularity. When he was advanced from his first charge he gave him an ovation and women went to see him go. While he was Cardinal and Patriarch of Venice his popularity grew till it became a fact. In the same way he is now beloved by all the common people of the entire Catholic world. On the occasion of his golden jubilee the prayers of the faithful will ascend all over the world that he may long continue to rule over them.

UNIVERSITY TRUSTEES TO MEET.

The Trustees of the Catholic University at Washington, D. C., will meet in the capital city of the nation this Wednesday. It will be the most important meeting in years, and Catholics all over the United States are anxiously awaiting the outcome.

EUGENE MCCARTHY'S HONOR.

Eugene A. McCarthy, a well known worker in the Uniform Rank, C. K. of A., has received from the National Secretary of the Catholic Church Extension Society a letter notifying him of his appointment as a special delegate from Kentucky to the Catholic Missionary Congress which will assemble in Chicago tomorrow.

OFFICIAL

Visit of Supreme Officers of the Knights of St. John to Falls Cities.

Stirring Addresses Made by Able Speakers Before Local Commanderies.

Alms and Objects of Order Set Forth by Clergy and Laity.

FETED BY NEW ALBANY KNIGHTS

The six local commanderies of the Knights of St. John in full uniform assembled at St. Anthony's church, Twenty-third and Market streets, last Sunday to attend solemn vespers and then to meet Gen. P. P. Feltig, of Shelbyville, Ind., Supreme President of the order, and Gen. C. W. Wallace, of Columbus, Ohio, the Supreme Secretary. After vespers the Knights by commanderies marched to the parochial school hall and with drawn swords stood at salute until the Supreme officers, the Rev. Father Leo Greulich, O. C. Henry Felhoelter and the local staff entered and were seated. Col. Felhoelter presided.

Father Leo was the first speaker. He welcomed the Knights and said his heart was with them in their undertakings. He likened the order to a bird, whose two wings were the love of God and love of neighbors. Again he compared man to an electric machine. We, he said, are the instruments, and God is the power house. To succeed the Knights must practice their religion and let charity prevail. The present Knights should prevail upon their sons to follow in their footsteps and become members of the order.

Supreme President Feltig followed Father Leo, and said that he and Supreme Secretary Wallace had come to Louisville on an official visit. They wanted to see and talk to as many commanderies as possible about the Knights of St. John, and to try and arouse new interest among outsiders who should be members of the order. He said that the Knights practice their religion and let charity prevail. The present Knights should prevail upon their sons to follow in their footsteps and become members of the order.

Supreme Secretary Wallace followed, and at the outset said that on this his first official visit to Louisville he had many reasons to be pleased with the city where he had lived as a child. He complimented the local commanderies on their excellent showing and the interest manifested. To those who did not belong to the order he said: "You will not find the Knights of St. John in any community." He dwelt upon the great benefits conferred by the uniform department and made many suggestions that will tend to infuse new life in the order, and said he hoped ere long to see a commandery in every parish.

Gen. Wallace also told that the Supreme officers had offered a prize of $50 for the establishment of each new commandery, and a prize of $200 for the Knight who would secure the greatest number of members before January 1 next.

William M. Higgins, editor of the Kentucky Irish American and an honorary member of St. Michael's Commandery, followed Gen. Wallace. Mr. Higgins spoke of the spirit that should actuate the Knights and urged them to persuade their sons and neighbors to become members. It was an exemplification of the old adage that in union there is strength. Good Knights will be good Catholics, and by being good Catholics we become better citizens. In conclusion he said there would be a lack of membership unless the Knights supported their leaders and followed where they led.

Attorney Newton G. Rogers was the next speaker, and said he realized the benefits of and the work accomplished by this organization. He declared that the Knights of St. John was one of the very best of all the Catholic societies, because it helped to own in time of need. He also warned those present against socialistic tendencies.

Col. Felhoelter brought the meeting to a close by extending thanks to the visiting Supreme officers and other speakers and to the local commanderies for their attendance.

CHOSE ABLE MAN.

Previous to the visit of Gen. Feltig and Wallace to Louisville they addressed the commandery at Jeffersonville along lines similar to the addresses made in Louisville later in the afternoon. Sunday night the Supreme President and Secretary went to New Albany, where they were the guests of St. Edward's Commandery. Before the addresses twelve candidates were initiated, the degree work being exemplified by the team from St. George's Commandery of Jeffersonville. The meeting closed with a grand banquet.

OLD SERVANT SUCCEEDS.

Thomas Malay, a veteran railway employee and a well known figure in Jeffersonville, succumbed to a second stroke of paralysis on Saturday morning. Mr. Malay had been in ill health for several years. Paralysis complicated with asthma proved too much for his exhausted system. Mr. Malay was born in the County Kilkenny, Ireland, sixty-eight years ago, and at the age of twelve came to America with his parents. The family remained for a while in Buffalo. Later he moved to Louisville, remained here seven years, and then went to Jeffersonville as an employee of the Jeffersonville, Madisonville and Indianapolis railroad, and when that company was absorbed by the Pennsylvania Company Mr. Malay remained in its service as foreman of the wrecking crew. In all he was forty-three years in the railroad's service. Two daughters and one son survive. They are Mrs. Benjamin Knight, Miss Alice Malay and John Malay. The funeral took place from St. Augustine's church Monday morning.

EQUAL RIGHTS

To All Is Slogan of New Democratic State Committee.

Under the rules laid down by the Democratic State Central Committee, the party in Kentucky will be thoroughly and very effectively reorganized by popular vote on the afternoon of Saturday, November 21, when precinct conventions will be held in every county in the entire State. To be entitled to vote one must have registered as a Democrat before the last election. The rules laid down by the State Central Committee are as follows:

In the voting precincts of all counties there shall be elected by the Democratic voters in such precincts a committee of one member, who shall constitute the precinct committee of such precinct. In all State, district, legislative or county mass conventions the proceeding and election of committees shall be null and void if the Chairman of said mass convention refuses to give tellers and have a count of the vote of those Democrats present. If said refusal for tellers is made—and the refusal of said Chairman to give tellers and a count, the Chairman so refusing shall be removed from his office by the State central committee upon proper proof so made to him. When Elected or Appointed—Said precinct committee shall be elected on the third Saturday in November, 1908, and shall be residents of their respective precincts. The Democrats of this State shall meet at their various voting precincts at the hour of 2 o'clock p. m., and proceed to the election of a committee to serve until his successor shall be elected by order of a succeeding State convention. The retiring precinct committee shall call their respective precinct mass-meetings to order and shall preside until the mass-meeting shall elect a Chairman. Where there is a vacancy in the office of precinct committee the Chairman of the County Committee shall designate some qualified Democrat living in the precinct to call said meeting to order and preside until the election of a Chairman.

On the Monday following such election such precinct committee shall meet at the respective county seats; in counties having more than one legislative district they shall meet at some convenient place in their said legislative districts, to be designated by the respective county or legislative district chairman, and organize by electing a Chairman and Secretary to said county or legislative district committee, who may or may not be a member of said committee. In counties containing cities of the second class these meetings and all other meetings of the precinct committee embracing that part of the county outside the city shall be held at the county court house, or at some convenient place designated by the Chairman of the legislative district committee, of which due notice shall be given."

STILL BOOMING.

Division 4, A. O. H., Continues to Increase Its Membership.

President John H. Hennessy presided over a well attended meeting of Division 4, A. O. H., last Monday night. The Rev. Father Christmas, O. P., opened the meeting with prayer and delivered the second of a series of discourses on the holy sacrifice of the mass. These discourses are proving both interesting and instructive to the members.

W. P. McDonough, in behalf of the Entertainment Committee, reported that everything was in readiness for the euchre and dance to be given on the eve of Thanksgiving day. Several applications were received and everything indicated that Division 4 was still on the boom.

The special committee appointed at the previous meeting of the division reported appropriate resolutions on the death of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Barry, mother of John J. Barry.

CHOSE ABLE MAN.

State President George J. Butler has appointed James P. Barry, of Division 1, A. O. H., as Kentucky's representative on the National Commission to promote the study of Irish history in parochial schools. This appointment was made in pursuance of resolutions adopted by the national convention of Hibernians at Indianapolis, and Prof. Michael G. Rohan, of Marquette University, has been placed at the head of the National Commission. The local Hibernians have signified their willingness to pay for the books necessary in such schools to adopt the study.

CHAPEL CAR

Was Visited by Thousands While It Remained in This City.

Church on Wheels Is Unique in Annals of Missionary Work.

Complete Quarters For Chaplain and His Suite Have Been Provided.

PEOPLE SAW AND WERE PLEASED

St. Anthony's chapel car arrived in Louisville Saturday morning of last week, and for three days it was visited by thousands of Catholic men, women and children. The car did not arrive at Seventh street Union depot until 11:30 o'clock, but long before that hour a hundred or more Catholics had assembled to inspect it. Among them were a number of priests, and when the car rolled in and was sidetracked at the north end of the yard and about fifty feet east of Seventh street the people made a rush for it. The Rev. Father Landry, the chaplain, and George C. Hennessy, Superintendent of the itinerancy of the chapel car service, were dining at one of the local hotels, but the colored porter showed all visitors through the car in a courteous manner.

On entering the car from the front a person sees a miniature Catholic church, and there are smaller and less well equipped churches in Kentucky. On the right are nine pews that will accommodate three people each, while on the left are nine pews that will seat each two persons. In the rear is a little organ that is used in the music of the mass. The pews, the organ, the candelabra and all other appointments are firmly secured, so that no amount of shaking will cause them to slide or upset. Just behind the altar is the living room of the chaplain and his suite. During the day the bunks or berths are folded up as is customary with Pullman cars, and the living room takes on the aspect of a library with a desk, bookcases, and in the extreme rear is the kitchen. It has a steel range, hot and cold water and all the utensils used in a modern kitchen. One Louisville priest, after viewing the kitchen and its furnishings said: "Well, I'm glad they're taking care of the physical welfare of the priest, as well as the spiritual welfare of his flock."

Saturday, Sunday and Monday the people of Louisville, New Albany and Jeffersonville visited St. Anthony's chapel car. The visitors were not confined to Catholics, but people of every creed and color paid a visit to this "church on wheels." The chapel car is nothing more nor less than a Pullman palace car of which at least three-fourths has been transformed into a Catholic chapel. It is being sent through the United States by the Catholic Church Extension Society, and was a gift to that organization from Hon. Ambrose Petry, a New York attorney.

When the chapel car arrived at the Seventh Street Union depot last Saturday night a number of Catholic priests, laymen and women were on hand to inspect it, and from that time on the car was a sight to be seen. Thousands of people passed through the car and expressed pleasure and surprise at its appointments. On arriving in Louisville the Rev. Father Landry, who is chaplain of the chapel car, communicated with local pastors and through them invited the Catholics of all the parishes in Louisville to visit the car on Sunday and Monday. As a consequence it is estimated that between 15,000 and 20,000 people passed through the car on Sunday and perhaps 5,000 on Monday. Almost all dropped contributions in the box, and a large fee was charged. From Louisville the car went to Lafayette, Ind., and then stopped at other points en route to Chicago, where it will remain during the Catholic Missionary Congress next week. George C. Hennessy, a practical railroad man, is Superintendent of the "church on wheels" and accompanies Father Landry over his itinerary.

As a result of the chapel car trip through Kansas and the Dakotas, eight mission churches have been established where no churches existed before. Catholics who have been for years without the services of a priest flock to the car; they become acquainted with each other, and soon set on foot a movement for the erection of a church. It is ever so tribulation in the back of the neck of the Catholic Church Extension Society expects to have several more chapel cars engaged in missionary work.

FRANCISCAN NUN DEAD.

Sister Aloysius, a member of the Franciscan order, died at St. Edward's Hospital, New Albany, Wednesday, after an illness of five weeks. Previous to entering the order she was Miss Francis Kica. She was born at Hammond, Ind., nineteen years ago, and had been a nurse at St. Edward's Hospital during the past two years. She was noted for her mild and gentle disposition.

FATHER RICHARD COMING.

The Rev. Father Richard Wurth, O. F. M., pastor of St. Boniface's church, who has been attending a retreat of the Franciscans at Cincinnati, is expected to return to Louisville today.

THE COMING PRIMARIES.

The State Central Committee's call for precinct conventions of Democrats in every county in the State a week from today ought to give new confidence to the rank and file of the voters. It means that the Democratic party in Kentucky is getting back to old time principles; that it has been harmonized and is about to be reorganized. In the opinion of nearly all the voters of the party in Louisville it is time for the old and continuous office-seekers and leaders to take a back seat. Their advice may be welcomed by the new leaders, but to secure success there must be new men at the helm and the ticket must be made up of men without moral or political blemish.

POST TRIMS AGAIN.

The Kentucky Irish American has said before that the Louisville Evening Post would not stand hitched. New evidence came to hand this week when the editor of that paper came out strong in his opposition to Dr. I. N. Bloom for the Presidency of the School Board. The Post clamored for a non-partisan board and wrote lengthy and labored editorials in its favor. Through no fault or machination of the Post Dr. Bloom was elected to represent the Sixth and Seventh wards. Since his election as School Trustee the editor of the Post has been vexed by a new wind, and is now as strenuously opposing him as it advocated his cause prior to the election. The poor old Post trims her sails to every blast that blows.

LOSES GRACEFULLY.

The reverend and venerable editor of the Western Watchman is a game fighter, but knows how to accept defeat gracefully. In his issue of last Saturday Father Phelan says: "We did not vote for Mr. Taft; but we most heartily congratulate him on his election. He is the best friend the Catholics and the Catholic church ever had in public life in this country."

And again Father Phelan says: "Mr. Kerens made a gallant fight, and demonstrated that he was the most honored Republican in the State. We nominate our distinguished townsman for a first class ambassadorship, and we shall accept nothing less for him."

The Irish will fill high places in some States as a result of last week's election. James H. Brady, Republican, was elected Governor of Idaho; John Burke, Democrat, was elected Governor of North Dakota; William Fitzgerald, Republican, was elected Lieutenant Governor of Kansas; Patrick J. Kelleher was elected State Statistician by the Democrats of Indiana; Timothy O'Connor was chosen Secretary of State in Colorado and Edwin O'Malley is New York's new Attorney General.

The editor of the Deaver Catholic Register says and says well: "The American soldier has no peer, morally, physically or intellectually. He is a fusion of all white races. In physique and strength he knows no rival. By his own free will he enters army life. His country is worth fighting or dying for. He is a free agent. Compulsion plays no part. He chooses the military from choice. Therefore he is best of all."

The Methodist preachers and other Anti-Saloon Leaguers made a great fight against Speaker Joe Cannon in Illinois, and as a result he carried his district by 7,000.

ABRUPT CLOSE

Brought to Land Purchase Act Through Lack of Funds.

To the failure of the land act under conditions of financial stringency is added complaint of members of the Irish party that some amendments are needed in the interest of the tenants. Among the conditions demanding relief is the intolerable congestion in the poorest districts of Ireland.

A bill providing a scheme for raising money for land purchases which at the same time embodies reforms demanded by the tenants will be introduced this month by Chief Secretary Birrell. This measure proposes that the landlords shall have their money only on condition that they accept the reforms for the tenants provided in the bill and shall also secure their adoption by the House of Lords.

Between the deep waters of financial distress and the brush fires of a popular uprising, the landlords are frankly, while the tenants, knowing how money talks these days, live

Miss Jean Sweeney, of St. Louis, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. John Laffan, Belgrave Court.

Mrs. Nat McNamara, of Iowa, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Coll, of Jeffersonville.

Mrs. Robert J. Burrell will give a dinner at the Seelbach today in honor of Patrick O'Sullivan, the pianist.

Mrs. Florence Mulr, of Nelson county, was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Hagan, this week.

Miss Josephine McGill, who spent the summer in Canada, has gone to New York to resume the study of music.

Mon. Swager Sherry, his wife and little daughter, Olive Critten, have gone to Washington, D. C., to spend the winter.

Dominic Bax is rejoicing over the arrival of another son and heir at his home on East Chestnut street, near Shelby.

Mrs. Walter Leachman, of Springfield, has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. K. Leahy, in Crescent Hill this week.

Mrs. J. P. Koller, Miss Koller and Casper Hammer were among the sojourners from Louisville at West Baden Springs this week.

Mrs. Robert Walsh and Miss Sallie Edelen went to Owensboro this week to attend the bedside of Miss Matie Barbour, who is seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Hanley, of Crescent Hill, spent several days in Frankfort last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Connell.

An enjoyable dance was given at Mullin's Hall, Wednesday night. D. J. Gleeson, John J. Grogan and Patrick King were on the committee in charge.

Mrs. John D. Griffin, who has been seriously ill at St. Joseph's Infirmary, is progressing favorably and will soon be able to return to her home in Frankfort.

John Tellman is one of Louisville's happiest men this week, and all because a fine baby boy arrived at his home, Eighth and Broadway, on Tuesday. Like his father, the little fellow seems bound to make himself heard.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brennan have arrived in Louisville after more than a year's tour of the principal States in the South and Central East. Both were pleased with their trip, but are glad to return to their "Old Kentucky Home."

Francis P. Burke, who was recently injured in a street car accident, is able to be out after ten days' confinement to his home, 1124 Seventh street. His friends are rejoicing over his speedy recovery.

Miss Margaret Seully was hostess at an informal dinner at her home, 2723 St. Xavier street, last Saturday evening in honor of Miss Rosemary Seully, who took the title role in "Molly Bawn" at the Masonic Theater last week.

Mrs. Rose Henley, who has been seriously ill at her home, 511 Twenty-sixth street, for some time, has been removed to the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Bannon, 2010 Bank street, where she expects to remain for several weeks.

John Goodwin is a grandpa now but bears his honors modestly. A new baby boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burk, arrived at the Goodwin family residence, 515 Twentieth street, Monday morning. The happy mother was formerly Miss Edna Goodwin, and the proud father is a promising young business man.

The Surprise Euchre Club, an organization composed of well known people of the West End, will be entertained at the residence of Mrs. Thomas Kelly, Twenty-second and Duncan streets, next Wednesday evening. A number of handsome prizes have been secured for distribution, and as the club expends all its funds for worthy charities, a large crowd is certain to be on hand.

Miss Elsie Mott, of Jeffersonville, and John Sivori, stage manager of the Avenue Theater, were united in matrimony at St. Edward's church, Jeffersonville, the Rev. Father Theodore Revermann officiating, at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Sivori held a reception at their residence on East Gray street. The bride is regarded as one of the most gracious young women in Jefferson county.

The engagement of Miss Ophelia E. Zehnder and Fred E. Bacon has been announced. The marriage will be solemnized at St. Francis of Rome church, Clifton, at 8 o'clock on the morning of January 14, the Rev. Father Thomas W. White officiating. Miss Mamie Kisel and William Zehnder will be the attendants. The bride-to-be is a daughter of Mr. Magdalen Zehnder, of 2019 Frankfort avenue. Mr. Bacon is a well known young business man. Mr. and Mrs. Bacon will take a month's trip through the East before beginning housekeeping.

Miss Anna Allen Ames and Dr. Elberg N. Johnson, of Chicago, Ill., will be married at St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Second and Kentucky streets, at 9 o'clock on the evening of next Wednesday. Masters James and Lewis Houire, nephews of the bride, will be the ring-bearers, and Miss Elizabeth Carare will be the ring-bearer. After the ceremony a reception will be tendered the families and immediate friends of the contracting parties at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Ames.

Miss Anna C. Reeder and Oscar H. Frey, Jr., will be united in the holy bonds of matrimony at St. Patrick's church next Tuesday morning. The Very Rev. Father James P. Cronin will officiate and will celebrate the nuptial mass which will follow the marriage rite. The bride-elect is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Reeder, and Mr. Frey holds a responsible position with the Peaslee-Gaultier Company. After a wedding trip of three weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Frey will begin housekeeping at 2925 West Market street.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Gave Its Younger Members Chance to Voice Opinions.

Very little aside from routine business came up at the session of Mackin Council Tuesday night. President Robert T. Burke occupied the chair and the attendance was fair considering the weather. J. J. Hummel was reported seriously ill; James J. Flannery, August E. Grass and Harry Thorpe, who had been ill, were reported much improved.

After the ordinary routine had been disposed of President Burke called upon all of the younger members to speak under the head of the good of the order. Several of them took occasion to voice their sentiments on the "Young Man" in the governance of the Y. M. C. and the valuable suggestions made were surprising. It showed that the younger members as well as their elders had seriously considered the proposition.

DIAMOND JUBILEE.

The German-Jefferson Society, undoubtedly the oldest fraternal insurance society in Louisville, celebrated its seventy-fifth anniversary in a gala style at Turner Hall Monday night.

More than 200 members of the society and their friends were present. The hall was appropriately decorated for the occasion, and after the opening march had been rendered by a splendid orchestra, Thomas Wiegand, President of the organization, introduced Urban Stengel, one of its oldest members, as the speaker of the evening. At the conclusion of his address the Concordia Singing Society rendered several selections, and then Edward Neuhart, secretary of the society, reviewed the history of the society. Other speakers of the evening were Attorney Newton G. Rogers and Charles Neumeier, editor of the Louisville Enquirer. The officers of the German-Jefferson Society were: Thomas Wiegand, President; John B. Ratterma, Vice President for the West End; Karl Bessmeyer, Vice President for the East End; William Ruff, Treasurer, and John Echsner, Secretary.

DELMONT'S DIRECTORS.

The following gentlemen have been selected to serve one year as Directors of the Delmont Club: John E. Schmitt, V. Schmitt, Louis W. Borntraeger, William F. Schuler, Matt Schupp, Herman Roehr, Albert S. Ran, J. George Miller, William Mehler, Charles Mann, Henry Long, C. J. Kistler, Leo Kaufman, William C. Baass and Joseph Blas. The Directors will meet on Wednesday evening to name the officers and it is expected that the present administration will be endorsed by re-election.

COMMUNITY SHOCKED.

The entire community was shocked Thursday when the announcement was made that John C. Higgins, Assistant Superintendent of the American Tobacco Company, died early that morning at his home, 1212 Hamilton avenue. At the hour of going to press the funeral arrangements had not been completed. The deceased was a native of Louisville, and is survived by his wife, who was Miss Christina Sehuman, and three children, Charles and Misses Nora and Nelle Higgins. He was a devout Catholic and a member of the Cathedral parish.

TOM CANNON TIPPED.

As a result of the political earthquake in Indiana there will be wholesale changes in the makeup of the Police Commissioners in Hoosier towns and cities. In New Albany, for instance, the new board will have two Democrats and one Republican. This means a Democratic Chief of Police, and friends of popular Tom Cannon are tipping him as a sure winner. Capt. Cannon has as many friends in Louisville as in New Albany, and all will rejoice to see him restored to authority.

MACAULEY'S THEATER.

E. H. Sothern will begin a week's engagement at Macauley's Monday night in his famous portraiture of "Lord Dunsinore." The role has proven the best opportunity Mr. Sothern has had as a character actor, and crowded houses are assured. There will be the usual matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

OPEN MEETING.

Branch 22, C. K. of A., will hold an open meeting in St. Vincent de Paul hall, Shelby and Oak streets, next Thursday evening. A number of able addresses will be made and members of other local branches are invited to be present.

COLISEUM.

The Coliseum rink is growing more popular than ever. It has made the healthful exercise of roller skating more attractive. The floor is kept in perfect condition and there is good music every night.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

New Orleans will have work in the fourth degree on December 20.

The two councils in Milwaukee number more than 1,000 members.

Marietta Council has secured new quarters in the Citizens' Bank building, Marietta, Ohio.

A new council was established at Vinco, Texas, last week, with seventy-five charter members.

Members of Denver Council went to Fort Collins, Colorado, last Sunday to confer the three degrees upon a class of fifty candidates.

Madame Emma Calve, the brilliant prima donna, will sing in St. Louis next month under the auspices of the Choral Club, an adjunct of the St. Louis Chapter of Knights.

The New York councils are holding an indoor athletic meeting at the armory of the Sixty-ninth Regiment today. All the athletic clubs in Greater New York are taking part in the contests.

San Francisco Knights presented Archbishop Riordan with a check for $5,000 on the occasion of his silver jubilee. He will apply the money for the establishment of a scholarship at St. Patrick's Seminary.

The Supreme Board of Directors met at New Haven, Conn., and reformed the Fourth degree districts of Missouri, with the center of the State as the dividing line. The eastern part will be known as the St. Louis district, and the western as the Kansas City district.

TRINITY COUNCIL

Held Social Session and Is Preparing for Other Events.

Trinity Council's social session in the new club house brought out a splendid attendance Monday night. President James B. Kelly presided over the routine affairs and then Al F. Martin administered during the social session. Two new applications were received, and it was announced that the council had arranged to give a mammoth euchre and dance on the evening of Tuesday, November 17.

Next Monday night the council will initiate a class of twenty members and the degree team expects to exemplify the ritual in a most impressive manner. Plans for the coming bazaar are maturing, and the contest between the rival candidates for the piano is waxing warm.

THANKSGIVING FESTIVAL.

A grand supper and social will be given for the benefit of St. Paul's church in the school hall, Jackson street, on St. Catherine, on the afternoon and night of Thanksgiving day. There will be music and refreshments all afternoon and night. Meals will be served from 4 until 10 o'clock, and a coffee social and candy pulling from 2 until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. A special smoker has been arranged for the men. The tickets of admission are only twenty-five cents.

"A NOBLE OUTCAST."

The St. Leo Dramatic Club will by special request, repeat the performance of "A Noble Outcast," which was given for the benefit of St. Leo's church a few weeks ago. The performance will be given at St. Leo's school hall, Highland Park, Tuesday evening, November 24. The curtain will rise at 8 o'clock sharp. Tickets are sold at twenty-five cents, with ten cents extra for reserved seats.

SPLendid PICTURES.

The Casino, Princess, Bijou and Dreamland theaters all did a thriving business this week, and each of the houses shows an improved line of motion pictures each week. All of these theaters are under the management of the Princess Amusement Company and each gives only first run films. Something novel is promised for each of the four houses next week.

MILITARY EUCRE.

Companies A and C, Uniform Rank, C. K. of A., will give a grand military eucure and lotto at Trinity Council's new home, Baxter and Morton avenues, on Monday evening, November 23. The game will be called at 8:15. There will be good music and many valuable prizes. Tickets are only twenty-five cents.

HISTORIC PAINTINGS BURNED.

A cable message from Ireland Wednesday stated that the Dublin City Hall had been gutted by fire, and that the entire building narrowly escaped destruction. Many handsome oil paintings, including a historic portrait of Daniel O'Connell, were destroyed.

MATINEE DANCE.

The Bright Eyes Club will give a select matinee dance at Nadorff's Hall, northeast corner Eighteenth and Kentucky streets, on the afternoon of Thanksgiving day, Thursday, November 26. Schmeer's orchestra will furnish the music.

MEMPHIS Y. M. I. COUNCIL.

In order to encourage a spirit of rivalry Chickasaw Council of Memphis has appointed two committees to name candidates for officers. An indoor football team has also been organized.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

New Albany Division will meet in regular session next Thursday night. The eight divisions in New Haven, Conn., are planning to build a club house.

Cheshire county, Massachusetts, has a new cadet division with sixty charter members.

Stationary used by the Connecticut State offices is linen paper manufactured in Ireland.

What promises to be a rousing meeting of Division 3 will be held next Thursday evening.

More than 500 people attended the twelfth annual concert of the Ladies' Auxiliary at Nassau, N. H.

One division in Roxbury, Mass., has $13,000 in its building fund, and is ready to begin work on a new home.

Mrs. Mary F. McWhorter, of Chicago, is serving her fourth term as State President of the Illinois Ladies' Auxiliary.

If plans proposed are carried out the Hibernians of Buffalo will have an Irish-American Athletic Club before long.

Division 7 of Syracuse, N. Y., has organized a "Forty-five" team and has challenged any similar team in the county.

Division 2 will meet Friday night, but consideration of a plan to give an entertainment will be postponed until after Advent.

Next Wednesday night is the regular time for a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and a number of new applications are promised.

The division at Racine, Wis., now has a membership of more than 100. Its members celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary last week.

The Rev. Father Daniel S. Sheerin addressed Division 2 of Boston last Sunday on the "Origin, Decay and Revival of the Gaelic Language."

The Jeffersonville Division will meet Tuesday night, and the members expect many of their Louisville friends to visit them that night.

With Bart Kavanaugh leading the Hibernians as County President the order should be on the boom in Indianapolis during the ensuing year.

The eight divisions of New Haven, Conn., are planning the erection of a Hibernian Institute. There are 1,400 members interested in the project.

Division 1 will hold a regular meeting Tuesday night and the members promise a better attendance than at the last meeting, which was held on election night.

Many divisions have appropriated $5 or more for the Church Extension Society, and it is believed that every division in the United States will contribute to the good work.

The order has gained fifty members during the past two years in Terre Haute, and as a consequence of the good work J. S. Cannon was re-elected County President.

The euchar and dance to be given by Division 4 at the University School, Wednesday, November 25, will be the latest entertainment given by local Hibernians until after Advent.

Walter J. Drohan has been Secretary of Division 3 of Worcester, Mass., for thirty-three years, and Thomas McDonough has been Treasurer of the same division for thirty-two years.

Division 16 of Marlboro, Mass., is making elaborate preparations for the dedication of its new building on Thanksgiving day. It will be equipped with all modern conveniences and will cost $35,000.

At the biennial convention of the Ladies' Auxiliary of South Groveland, Mass., resolutions were adopted honoring the work of Hon. John Redmond and his colleagues of the Irish Parliamentary party.

The meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary Wednesday will be an open one, and the committee in charge, composed of Misses Mary Kennedy, Emma Fischer and Julia Kelly, invite all their friends to attend.

RETREAT FOR NUNS.

The Rev. Father Isidore Dwyer, C. P., is conducting a retreat for the Sisters of the Good Shepherd. It began on Thursday and will close on Saturday, November 21.

LIVED LONG IN PARISH.

ROYAL WELCOME

Will Be Extended to the American Invaders of Ireland.

Ireland is expecting an American invasion, says a special cable to the New York World. The correspondent writes that this particular case (of manufacturers who will be compelled under the new British patents act to set up works in the United Kingdom) extends to them a cordial welcome. Missionary work along this line was done by John Redmond in his recent visit to the United States, where he reports he had opportunities to urge upon American manufacturers who contemplate continuing their trade in Great Britain the advantages of establishing their factories in Ireland. The Irish leader represented to them that land on his island is cheap and easily acquired, the water supply abundant, and labor quick, intelligent and willing to work for a small wage. A considerable impetus to Irish industry is expected to result from the application of the new act.

Though Parliament has planned to confine its fall sittings to English business, the Irish party has compelled attention and expects to force some action on the ever recurring Irish land question. The state of the money market has brought about an unexpected situation in which the majority of the landlords who have agreed to sell their land to their Irish tenants under the provisions of the land act can not get their money from the British Government because the land stock can not be floated now without further depreciating consols.

LAND TO BROTHERS.

Col. C. C. Copeland, a wealthy bachelor of Libertyville, Ill., has given the Christian Brothers who own 220 acres of land along the Des Plaines river south of Libertyville and near St. Mary Academy. The land is worth about $60,000. The deed was registered at Waukegan last week. The place will be improved to form a retreat where the teachers in the Christian Brothers institution may rest during the summer.

PAT'S ANSWER.

It was dinner time and Pat was at his meal, when the foreman, who thought himself rather smart, said to him: "How is it that you Catholics never eat meat on a Friday?" "Well," said Pat, "It's just to show the distinction between us and dogs, for they eat it any day."

Very large pocket flaps are provided.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

The season of fishing at Donegal has not been up to the standard. Word comes from Lurgan that the linen trade in Armagh is improving. The volume of linen trade in Belfast is much stronger than in months past.

Dr. Mackey has been appointed Deputy Coroner for County Waterford.

Only two minor cases were on the docket at the recent Derry Quarter Sessions.

Peter Connolly, a devout Catholic and staunch Nationalist, is dead at Carrickmore.

A new branch of the Gaelic League has been established at Killeshandra, County Cavan.

It is rumored that several evictions in the vicinity of Ballytrain, County Louth, are in prospect.

John E. Harrett, of Abbeyfeale, District Superintendent of the G. S. and W. railway, died very suddenly.

Dr. E. Crawford has been appointed to succeed Dr. Charlotte Mitchell as resident medical officer of the Lurgan Hospital.

Mrs. Catherine Finegan, the venerable mother of the Rev. Father M. Finegan, of St. Peter's church, Drogheda, is dead.

Sincere regret is expressed in County Down over the death of Joseph Dorrain, of Larney, auctioneer and cattle salesman.

A great Nationalist mass meeting was held recently at Muff, East Cavan, under the auspices of the United Irish League.

Mrs. Catherine Keirans, of Newtownbutler, who laid claim to being the oldest woman in Ireland, is dead at the age of 113 years.

Mrs. M. S. O'Heirne, of Ballinamore, County Leitrim, is dead, after an illness of two years. She is survived by her son, T. R. O'Heirne.

Mystery surrounds the death of Bernard McLaughlin, of Shandhill, who was found dead on the railroad line between Tollymore and Sligo.

The Very Rev. Father Louis Carew, O. C. R., after a ten years residence in Rome, has returned to Mount Melleray, County Waterford.

The Rev. Father Finegan, of Dundalk, has been appointed parish priest at Togher, to succeed his uncle, the late light Rev. Monsignor Powderly.

The Rev. Father James McKeown, of Ardee, has been appointed to succeed Father Finegan as curate in Dundalk. He is a native of County Louth.

William Power, an extensive farmer of the Carrigrohane district, County Waterford, was fatally wounded while watching his sons at rifle practice. He was seventy-seven years old.

The Rev. Father James Dempsey, parish priest at Arles, County Carlow, is dead, after an illness of two years. The deceased was ordained in 1869 and was always an intense Nationalist.

Secretary Birrell has announced in the House of Commons that the Government is considering the question of prosecuting the Nationalist newspapers that print reports of branches of the United Irish League.

Owen Reilly, of Gubb Island, Newtownbutler, County Fermanagh, recently dug up an ancient bronze pot, which is said to bear an inscription in Ogham characters. It has sent the article to the National Museum, Dublin.

Magistrate Thomas Dignan, of Ballygar, County Galway, and one of the county's leading citizens, is dead. His youngest son, the Rev. Father John Dignan, is President of St. Joseph's College at Ballinasloe, and two daughters are nuns at Loughrea.

Patrick Mceneberry died suddenly while walking along the road near Connell. He had been for years employed in a glass factory in Lancashire, England, and came home to recuperate his health. He was forty years old, and is survived by several brothers and sisters.

Departments.

Democrats Are Fired But the Old Business Man Renews His Pertinent Queries About Flagging.

BUSY POLICE COURT ATTACHES

The city administration and its pets continue to put funny things across the plate, as they say in baseball parlance. Take the police department, for instance, during the past week: One policeman was held to answer to the grand jury for false swearing. He was allowed to resign. Another who was charged with loitering in a saloon was summarily dismissed.

J. B. Coons went on the police force about a year ago, and during the Christmas holidays it is alleged he became excited one night and "shot up" the station house. He was tried by the Board of Public Safety and exonerated. Coons quieted down after that until the approach of the November election. Then it is alleged he made oath that he lived at 110 East Chestnut street, and that he had been unavoidably absent from the city on each of the three regular registration days. From the record kept by his police Captain it was shown that Coons was in the city and on duty each of the three days. For this he must appear before the grand jury, and yet he was allowed to resign from the police force. Coons is a Republican and a reformer. Now take the case of Charles M. Chapman, a Democrat. Chapman was on the police force three years and never had charges preferred against him until last week. He was a mounted man attached to the Preston street sub-station, and was familiarly known as the "Grey Eagle of Schmitzelberg." He was well liked by everybody in the wide territory over which he rode, and was on extremely friendly terms with the heads of the big manufacturing firms in his district. One night last week he was notified that he was wanted by telephone. He dismounted, entered a saloon to the only telephone convenient, and while answering the telephone Ewing Dale, Deputy Clerk of the Police Court, walked in. Chapman was reported to the Board, and after making his explanation was summarily dismissed. That was on Friday. His friends were so numerous that he had several jobs offered him at once and on Monday went back to his trade of barber. It is said that Dale is making a practice of spying on the police and now has five seals to his credit. Chapman voted the Democratic ticket on Tuesday, and the vengeance that followed was as swift as it was sure.

The Police Court attaches have shown a penchant recently for getting themselves and others into trouble, and yet all their escapades do not get into print. It is alleged on what appears to be genuine information that Carl Branch, the interpreter for the Police Court, had his eyes blacked the day after election. He entered a saloon in the southeastern end of the city and began cursing Democrats. "Stormy" Goss, a Democrat and former policeman, resented the language. Branch is alleged to have pulled a revolver. Goss knocked him down and blacked his eyes. There were no arrests apparently.

Lieut. Foster tried to put another one over in the Police Court this week, when he testified that he arrested T. M. McDonald, who attended a Republican meeting and cheered for Bryan. This was too much for Judge McGee and he promptly dismissed McDonald. When questioned by Robert J. Hagan, attorney for the defense, Foster said he had not heard anybody cheering for that. This is the same Lieut. Foster whose army record has been published in the Kentucky Irish American, and whom the Louisville Post is trying to boost into a Captaincy.

The old Louisville merchant and manufacturer, who has asked pertinent questions about the city administration, said to a representative of the Kentucky Irish American this week: "A number of us met at lunch today and the usual question was asked: 'Has the Kentucky Irish American heard anything from Mayor Grinstead or his Board of Public Works on the St. James Court stone gutter question?' I told them you would have published the answers if there had been any. All of us are anxiously awaiting for the explanation of why 1,800 to 2,000 feet of smooth stone flange in excellent condition was taken up and brick gutters substituted. What disposition was made of that flagging? Why is it that another sewer has been put into St. James Court, making three in all now? The mansions in this aristocratic court had been previously provided with two sewers of more than thirty inches in diameter. 'When widows and orphans are suffering from lack of drainage, why should the city needlessly expend $2,000 in an aristocratic quarter that has been previously well provided? These questions, if satisfactorily answered prior to the election, might have helped the hospital bond proposition. All I have told you are facts that can be proven, and we business men are going to get all the facts. No threats or intimidation will prevent us from getting at the bottom of things. Threats made by the administration will only aid us in bringing more undeniable details into public print.'

PIANO RECITAL.

Patrick O'Sullivan, the famous pianist and composer, who is now visiting his relatives in Louisville, gave a recital to the pupils of Sacred Heart Academy, Crescent Hill, on Thursday of last week. Very Cheap.

NAMES OF THOSE INTERESTED

The announcement of a Christmas sale of beautiful hand-made and embroidered garments and holiday novelties, also hand-painted china and handsome religious articles from the convent of the Good Shepherd, Eighth and Madison streets, will be received by most Catholics in this diocese with pleasant anticipations of the treat in store. These convent made articles have a reputation all their own, both for neatness of execution and exquisite beauty. The forthcoming sale will bring them within the reach of many who could not otherwise afford to possess them. The hard times of the past year, which many have felt, causes a scarcity of work in the convent, and as the good Sisters have no other means of revenue than that derived from this work it became necessary to take this step to secure food and sustenance for themselves and the 200 girls under their care. The Knights of Columbus have generously granted permission to have the sale of the Sisters' handiwork in their new home on Fourth avenue, near York, and a large number of representative Catholic women have consented to take charge of the sale, which has been arranged for December 7, 8 and 9. There will be music each afternoon and evening, and an enjoyable time is assured all who attend.

At the meeting of ladies on Friday afternoon the work was divided into departments, each of which is under the care of a special committee. The officers and committees are as follows:

President, Mrs. William Krieger; Secretary, Mrs. Thomas R. Leahy; Treasurer, Mrs. Charles Smith. Handmade and embroidered underwear—Mrs. Matt. O'Doherty, Chairman; Mesdames T. B. Leahy, P. H. Callahan, Eschman, Schrader, M. V. Meehan, John Doyle, W. T. Leahy and Misses Emily McAteer, Bertha Raschler, Stella O'Connor, Margaret Wathen, Marie O'Brien and Elizabeth Walsh.

Aprons—Mrs. Daniel F. Murphy, Chairman; Mesdames Thomas Keenan, Boshche, P. V. Simms, J. T. Malone, and Misses Irene Curran, Irene Cassin and Rose Galt.

Shirt waists with embroidered collars and cuffs—Mrs. Charles Smith, Chairman; Mesdames Frank A. Geher, Henry Bosse, Frank Geher, James B. Kelly, Charles F. Taylor, Joseph Schuler, Ella Netherlands, David O'Connell and Miss Rose Ann Quinn.

Dolls—Mrs. John Gorman, Mrs. J. H. Cummings, Mrs. Mary Schuck, Miss Hughes, Mrs. W. T. Meehan and Misses Emma Stey, E. Kentling and Mrs. Ladenburg.

Religious articles—Miss Emma Depen, Mrs. J. O'Donnell, Miss Louise Armour, Mrs. John Naunley, Mrs. George Fenner and Miss Mary Cody.

Novelties—Mrs. A. McCloskey, Chairman; Mesdames George Hildebrand, Agnes Tongue, John J. Barrett, F. M. Algeier and Miss Maggie Wallace.

Wheel—Mrs. John Graves, Chairman; Mrs. David Welsh and Mrs. Kate Newman.

Entertainment—Mrs. Kate Newman.

Press—Mrs. Frank A. Geher and Miss Elizabeth Walsh.

T. B. MCABE HONORED.

Local railroad men, who are members of the National Association of Freight Traffic Agents, met Saturday and re-elected Thomas B. McCabe, of the Illinois Central Railroad Company, President by acclamation. The meeting was large and representative. Detroit got the endorsement of the Louisville branch as the best place for holding the convention of the national body, which will probably meet about the middle of June, 1909.

RIEGER'S HOLIDAY GOODS.

In another column of this issue will be found the advertisement of George Rieger, the popular jeweler, who asks his old friends and the public generally to call and examine his holiday wares in gold jewelry, silverware, watches, diamonds and novelties. His establishment is on the second floor of the Norton Building, northwest corner Fourth and Jefferson streets. Mr. Rieger was associated with George Wolf & Co. on the ground floor of the same corner for thirty-two years, and has an acquaintance in the city exceeded by none. His son, George Rieger, Jr., an active member of Mackin Council, Y. M. I., is associated with his father in the business.
